

Volunteer role profile

Role:	Vice President
Directorate:	Professional Services
Responsible to:	Council

The Presidential Team are the institution's most visible and trusted ambassadors. We can't achieve our vision of a safe and healthy world of work without your support, help, knowledge, and expertise. Your contributions help to influence the OSH profession and connect diverse professionals to continually develop the world of health and safety.

Role overview

- To help promote and support IOSH in its vision of a safe and healthy world of work.
- To support the delivery of IOSH's strategy to the membership and globally to the wider occupational health and safety profession and other associated stakeholders.
- As a senior ambassador, represent the voice of IOSH globally at events and in the media, delivering key messages to a wide-ranging audience.

Role responsibilities

- Attend and represent IOSH at events, conferences, and meetings, delivering presentations and participating in panel discussions confidently engaging with audiences both in person and virtually.
- Attend IOSH community events, as requested, delivering sessions aligned to IOSH's strategy that supports members.
- Represent IOSH in an ambassadorial capacity, supporting relationships with our fraternal partners.
- Prepare for and attend meetings with the Presidential Team.
- To support and take part in the recruitment process for governance related volunteer roles, as requested.
- Work closely and in partnership with the Presidential Team Officer and other IOSH teams.

Once you're appointed, you will also become a member of our Council in an ex officio role. You will need to refer to the Council member role profile which outlines the additional responsibilities relevant to this part of the role.

Person requirements

- Meet one of the following: Chartered Member of Council, Chartered Member of a Community Committee, Chartered Member of a Standing Committee, Chartered Member of a Sub Committee, Chartered Member of the Nominations Committee OR a Chartered Fellow.
- Up to date with CPD requirements and membership fees.

- Willing to accept collective responsibility.
- Understanding of IOSH strategy and campaign themes.
- Understanding of IOSH Governance structure.
- Understanding of the IOSH Code of Conduct and how to manage potential conflicts of interest.
- Willing to travel to attend events, including internationally.
- Demonstrate and support IOSH's shared values.
- Ideally, although not essential, have an ambition to progress to the role of President Elect, and subsequently President.

Skills and abilities

- Confident and engaging public speaker.
- Experienced in delivering presentations.
- Ability to engage with diverse, global audiences.
- Strong written communication skills, producing clear, engaging content.
- Ability to manage and prioritise tasks and actions.
- Demonstrate professionalism and diplomacy in sensitive situations.
- Able to provide constructive feedback in a professional and considerate manner.
- Proficient and confident using IT systems and digital platforms, including video-conferencing and social media.
- Willingness to step in at short notice, embrace new challenges, and learn new content.

Commitment

- The term for this role is two years with an option of being re-appointed for a further two years.
- The time commitment for this role is approximately 10–15 days per year. As not all activities require attendance in person, this may range from 1–8 hours per month. This is a guide and will vary depending on IOSH priorities and your own personal commitments.
- In addition, you will also need to refer to the Council member role profile which outlines the commitment relevant to this part of the role.

What's in it for you

This role offers the opportunity not only to give back to the profession, but also to grow personally and professionally as a senior ambassador helping to shape a safer and healthier world of work.

- Influence the future of the profession. Represent IOSH at conferences and events globally, playing an active role in delivering IOSH's strategy, helping to drive progress towards a safe and healthy world of work.
- Develop new skills. Take advantage of diverse opportunities to contribute, lead and represent IOSH across a wide range of forums.
- Inspire the next generation. Contribute to making health and safety a first career choice.

- Personal growth and fulfilment. Be part of a passionate community of members committed to advancing the profession and supporting IOSH members globally.
- Broaden your network. Connect with OSH professionals worldwide. Build relationships with professionals, policymakers, industry leaders and stakeholders enhancing your influence within the OSH community.
- Develop governance experience. Gain knowledge through your role on Council, providing advice and guidance on strategic, professional and policy issues.

The Institution of Occupational Safety and Health (IOSH) is the world's largest professional body for safety and health, and the only one with Chartered status.

We've been around since 1945, and today we're a registered charity with international NGO status. That means we're in a unique position to lead the way: shaping policy, championing positive change, and standing up for everyone's right to a safe and healthy workplace.

With a global community of 50,000 members, spread across 130 countries, together, we share one vision: a world where work is safe and healthy for all.

Through the work of our members, and our qualifications and training, we provide the skills, knowledge, and expertise needed to keep people and workplaces safe - and businesses and economies thriving.
